An aerial map of the Foothills Park area. A green dotted line outlines the park's boundary. Inside the park, a blue lake is labeled "Foothills Park". A red dashed rectangle within the park is labeled "Project Site". To the left of the park, a highway is marked with a blue and red shield containing the number "287". To the right, a road is labeled "West Pkwy". A compass rose in the bottom left corner indicates North. A monarch butterfly is partially visible in the bottom right corner.
